Presented by Jennifer Baxmeyer, Leader, Serials and Electronic Resources Cataloging Team, Princeton University Library. Jennifer teaches cataloging at Rutgers and Wayne State University and is a trainer for the Library of Congress's Catalogers Learning Workshop (CLW). She has presented workshops on serials cataloging, cataloging electronic resources, metadata standards, and digital library development.

The workshop will cover a general introduction to serials cataloging with a focus on RDA. The program will be geared toward copy catalogers and library staff with some basic cataloging and MARC experience. This will be a great refresher for more experienced catalogers as well. No serials cataloging experience is necessary.
